"The Hiſtory of the United States for the year 1796,"

In which the CHARGE OF SPECULATION againſt

ALEXANDER HAMILTON,

Late SECRETARY of the TREASURY, is FULLY REFUTED.

WRITTEN BY HIMSELF.

This publication preſents a conciſe ſtatement of the baſe means practiſed by the Jacobins of the United States to aſperſe the characters of thoſe perſons who are conſidered as hoſtile to their diſorganizing ſchemes. It alſo contains the correſpondence between Mr. Hamilton and Meſſrs. Monroe, Muhlenburgh and Venable, on the ſubject of the documents aforeſaid, and a ſeries of letters from James Reynolds and his wife to Mr. Hamilton, proving beyond the poſſibility of a doubt, that the connection between him and Reynolds, was the reſult of a daring conſpiracy on the part of the latter and his aſſociates to extort money.

☞ A diſcount of one third from the retail price will be made in favor of wholeſale purchaſers, for CASH. Orders to be addreſſed to Mr YOUNG.

Saliſbury Eſtate.

THE Subſcriber, propoſing to contract his buſineſs, offers this Eſtate for ſale, on moderate terms. On it are one Blaſt and three Air Furnaces, a complete Boreing Machine, and a very good griſt Mill, with two pair of ſtones; alſo a good Forge, all in perfect repair, as are all the Water Works connected with theſe various branches. The Air Furnaces were lately built for the purpoſe of caſting Cannon for this State.—There are above two thouſand acres of Land, one half of which is under wood, the other very fine arable Land, producing the beſt Hay and Paſture. The Cannon lately manufactured there, fully proves the excellency of the metal, which is ſuperior to any in this country, and probably, equal to any in the world; for not one of ſixty-nine guns lately made, although ſome of the 24 were bored into 32 pounders have failed on proving. The ſituation is very eligible, particularly for this branch of manufacture, and a place of arms lying in the ſtate of Connecticut, and only 30 miles from ſeveral landings on the Hudſon's river, and having every advantage that can reſult from a plenty of water iſſuing from a large natural pond, very near the Furnace, and which may be converted into a variety of other uſeful purpoſes. The purchaſer can be accommodated with all the ſtock and utenſils, and have poſſeſſion on or before the firſt of June next, and preparation may be made in the mean time for going into Blaſt immediately thereafter, for every part will be delivered in good order, with ſome coal, Ore, &c. &c. For terms, apply to Mr. Joſeph Anthony, in Philadelphia; David Brooks, Eſq. one of the Repreſentatives in Congreſs for this State; Mr. David Waterman, on the premiſes, or to the proprietor in New-York.

Engliſh Grammar,

The ſecond edition, with improvements,

ADAPTED to the different claſſes of learners; with an appendix, containing rules and obſervations for aſſiſting the more advanced ſtudents to write with perſpicuity and accuracy.

By LINDLEY MURRAY.

"This is a publication of much merit, and fully anſwers the profeſſions in the Title. The appendix contains ſome of the beſt rules for writing elegantly, and with propriety, that we recollect to have ſeen."

Monthly Review, July 1796.

"This Grammar is, on many accounts entitled to commendatory notice, its materials have been carefully and judiciouſly ſelected; its arrangement is diſtinct and well adapted to the purpoſe of inſtruction and its expreſſion is ſimple, perſpicuous and accurate, &c."

See the character at large in the Analytical Review, July 1796.

Engliſh Exerciſes,

Adapted to the Grammar lately publiſhed by Lindley Murray, conſiſting of exemplification of the parts of ſpeech, inſtances of falſe orthography, violations of the rules of ſyntax, defects in punctuation, and violations of the rules reſpecting perſpicuity and accuracy, deſigned for the benefit of private learners, as well as for the uſe of ſchools.

"We have been much pleaſed with the peruſal of theſe Exerciſes. They occupy with diſtinguiſhed excellence a moſt important place in the ſcience of the Engliſh language; and as ſuch, we can warmly recommend them to the Teachers of Schools, as well as to all thoſe who are deſirous of attaining correctneſs and preciſion in their native tongue."

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

BRISTOL, (ENGLAND,) Aug. 28.

At Nisi Prius Bar, a cause of very great importance to the mercantile world, came on to be tried before Sir Nash Grose and a special jury. M'Taggart and co. tobacco merchants, of London, struck a bargain with the Hunters and co. merchants of Bristol, to sell them a quantity of manufactured tobacco, to the amount of 1300l for a bill at three months, payable in London. The goods were shipped off in the latter part of February. About the beginning of March of the same year, the house of the Hunter's became insolvent, which was previous to the time when M'Taggert's bill on them became due. They therefore no sooner heard of the failure, than one of the partners hastened from town, and overtook the goods at Portsmouth, which he instantly seized, and would not suffer to proceed. Now this was an action of trover, brought by the assignees of Hunters, to recover the value of the tobacco so seized by the defendants; upon this ground, that the vessel in which it was shipped by the consignors, was a chartered ship of the consignees, and that therefore it was an actual delivery to them. The leading counsel for the defendants, made a very eloquent and ingenious speech to the jury, in which he insisted strongly on the circumstance that his clients, while settling the mode of conveyance, had never once asked the question whether the ship was chartered or general, from whence he inferred proof of no essential difference existing between them. Some other points were ably urged, and he concluded by reminding the jury of the great importance of this cause to the commerce of the country, and of the pernicious consequence which would result to credit, the very life-blood of the state, if they should give a verdict for the plaintiffs. Before the leading counsel on the other side addressed the jury in reply, the judge said, it was his duty to declare, that he had never known a stronger or a clearer point of law; that a chartered vessel was indubitably the particular warehouse of those who chartered her, and that of consequence no person could legally stop or detain any goods shipped on board such vessel, without permission of the owners. Upon this a verdict was instantly given for the plaintiffs, to the full value of the tobacco.

From this decision it will become prudent for merchants to enquire, whether the ships which are to convey goods be chartered or not, because, had it been a general ship, M'Taggart would we understand, have been justified in detaining the tobacco.

LONDON, September 29.

The message of the Directory to the Councils upon the breaking off of the negociations at Lisle, is a very curious production, it runs thus:

"The Executive Directory informs the Councils, that the English Ambassador, Lord Malmesbury, having seen the failure of the late conspiracy, has thought proper to retire from the republic; but the Directory declare they shall be ready to make peace whenever it can be done, consistent with the honour and dignity of the Republic."

If we may credit a private letter from Hanover, on the 12th inst. his Royal Highness, Prince Adolphus, who at present resides in that city, is to be married to the young widow of the late Prince Louis of Russia, daughter of the reigning Duke of Mecklenburg Strelitz, and neice of her Britannic Majesty.

Buonaparte left Milan on the night of the 22d, and at Roveredo and the other places through which he passed was received with much parade. He has deprived many functionaries of the Milanese tribunals of their offices for imputed ineivism.

The Pacha of Scurati has sent two Deputies to the Directory of the Cisalpine Republic, proposing a system for revolutionizing the Greek islands, and other Turkish provinces: Candia and Morea are in a state bordering on revolt. The proposition has been referred to Buonaparte.

Seventy-two inspectors, and six commissioners have been appointed at Venice with unlimited powers to take cognizance of the actions and writings of the citizens, one of whom was arrested on the 22d ult. for giving as his opinion that Venice would be ceded to Austria. All the cities in Venetian Terra Firma had a conference by deputation at Bassano. After 15 days deliberation it was resolved to demand to be united to the Cisalpine Republic.

Two deputies had in consequence been dispatched to Milan, to announce this resolution, and in the name of 1,200,000 Venetians require this incorporation. This deputation had been referred to Buonaparte whose opinion on the subject was not known but will probably be governed in his decision by the Congress of Udina.

At Rome a forced loan of 6 per cent. has been levied on all clerical property, to diminish the circulation of the old paper currency, the depreciation of which had contributed much to the embarrassment of the State.

At Vienna the war tax was announced for the ensuing year, and the hostile preparations were uninterrupted; the Imperial army in Italy had been augmented to 120,0000 men—yet these are regarded as measures of precaution, and not considered as indicating a probability of the prolongation of the war.

A mutiny was about to break out lately in his majesty's ship Triumph, in consequence of punishment being inflicted for the disorderly conduct of four of the crew.—The firmness of captain Effington and the other officers, supported by the marines, was, however, effectual in restoring order.

On the 14th inst. the Prince of Wales Packet, fell in with the Spanish prizes under convoy of the Victory, Britannia, St. George, and a 64 gun ship off Oporto, steering for England, all well; so that in a few days we may expect to hear of their safe arrival.

A ministerial paper has got up a ridiculous story of Rewbell the French Director, drubbing Talleyrand Perigord the Minister for Foreign affairs, for expressing an opinion in favour of peace, so severely with a bundle of papers, that he was obliged to keep his bed two days. It is not easy to conceive how the Journalist has reason to know the truth of this anecdote. Such things have been, however. It has been reported that the King of Great-Britain used to kick his ministers for his amusement.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 2.

It is now acknowleged in foreign prints that the French are at the bottom of the revolution in hither Germany. Thus after a solemn stipulation in the preliminaries of peace with the Emperor, that all that country should be restored to the Empire, the French have secretly and perfidiously contrived to wrest it from the Empire by internal revolution and independence.

It seems by an article from Wetzlaer, that when Gen. Hoche was ill, the streets had been spread with litter to prevent noise—and even mechanics were not suffered to work for fear of disturbing him. Surely jacobins must be very rare and precious articles to deserve all this care. Had a prince been the object of such attention, the Aurora would have given us a column of abuse on the occasion.

One of the princes in the vicinity of English establishments in the East-Indies, lately gave the government much uneasiness, on account of some military preparations, and an explanation was requested. The Nabob gave for answer that the English might make themselves easy; as he had only been making an excursion, with a body of ten thousand horse, on a hunting party.

The Comet which was seen in this country was visible also in England and France. Citizen Bouvard discovered it Aug. 14 in the arm of Hercules, moving rapidly from the earth. On the 26th it was seen in England, 4 degrees above the star Ophinchi, and it had 70 degrees polar distance. Its right ascention 20 deg. of Sagitarius. Its orbit and movement did not appear to correspond with those of any comet before discovered.

Last year the navigation of the Hudson was interrupted by the ice the 27th of November—some vessels however got up after that day—but from the 27th the river was wholly closed up by the ice, and did not again open until the 15th of March.

WHITESTOWN, November 14.

Melancholly Accident.

We hear from Bloomfield, that on Friday the 20th ult. as a Mr. Lemuel Geer formerly of Chatham in the state of Connecticut, was digging in a well at the depth of 25 feet, the earth fell in and buried him to his middle; Mr. Bloomfield (the gentleman for whom he was at work) observing his situation, immediately descended, in order to relieve him; but unhappily just as he reached the unfortunate man, he observed a large quantity of earth giving way, and had only time to secure himself, which he did by running up the rope to which the bucket was fastened. Mr. Geer was ingulphed and remained in that situation about 20 hours during about 13 of which he retained his senses and the use of speech, begging the people to exert themselves, and liberate him if possible? but as no implements for digging were obtainable, short of a distance of seven miles, and the body of earth under which he was confined was so great, that with all possible exertions, it was not until some hours after he was supposed to be dead that he was found.

ALEXANDRIA, Dec. 1.

Yesterday Henry Sinclair, captain of the British letter of marque Swinger, now in this port, was arrested, and imprisoned in the county goal, on suits for damages amounting to 20,000 dollars, brought against him by Stewart and Son, of Baltimore.

The circumstances upon which the actions were grounded were the following:—That the ship Atlantic, owned by the above firm, on her passage from a French port in the West Indies to Baltimore, was captured by the Swinger, and after being plundered of a number of articles was ordered to Barbadoes for trial. On her passage to Barbadoes, she was re-captured by a French privateer, and then re-taken by another British vessel and carried into St. Christopher's, where she was finally cleared, but was obliged to dispose of her cargo to pay the costs of salvage, &c.

One of the suits is brought for forcibly plundering the vessel of part of her cargo—the other for damages sustained in her detention, capture, &c.

ST. JOHN, (N. B.) Oct. 13.

HORRID MURDER!

Wednesday morning Archibald M'Neil was committed to gaol for murdering Mr. Thomas Kitchen, cordwainer—The circumstances attending this savage and inhuman act must shock humanity and make us shudder at a recital.

M'Neil has for some time past shown symptoms of a deranged mind, but, whether owing to excess by drinking spirituous liquors, or other causes, is perhaps uncertain; but on Tuesday night he ranged through the several streets of this city, till about one o'clock, when he broke open the house of the deceased, killed him after a long and cruel contest, plucked out his eyes, cut off some of his members, let out his bowels, stabbed him in the pit of the stomach with a shoemaker's knife, which he left immured up to the hilt, and otherwise greatly mangled his body. He then took his eyes &c. and a goblet with flowers, and with them again paraded the streets singing and whistling.

As Mr. Kitchen lived alone we know little further what passed between them, or the particular manner in which he killed him, a black man in the neighbourhood, says the scuffle lasted half an hour and upwards; and what M'Neil himself related, that is: that Kitchen was undressed, that he (M'Neil) attacked him with a stick, that a hard scuffle ensued, that the deceased pulled him by the hair, bit him in the hand and hurt one of his eyes—That his (M'Neil's) stick broke and thereby became more convenient for his purpose, and that with a piece of it, to use his own expression, "he worked him up from below" and "jobbed" it into his eyes, until wearied and exhausted, he fell back on his bed and expired, after which he mangled his body as before described.

The Coroner's Jury brought in their verdict that Thomas Kitchen was wilfully murdered by Archibald M'Neil.

Much praise is due to Dr. Emerson and Mr. Francis Watson for their exertions in securing the prisoner. He was taken before his worship the mayor, and underwent a long examination, when he confessed the fact and related the particulars as they occured—His manner of behaviour was bold and undaunted, and he did not appear to have any inclination to conceal any thing relative to the murder.

M'Neil since his confinement begins to think a little more rationally—he laments his unhappy situation, and those who visit him in prison say his demeanour is now more orderly, and he seems sensible of his approaching fate—he repines at the melancholy part which he has acted, and grieves intolerably at the distress in which he has involved an aged mother and his wife and family.

Mr. KITCHEN has a family in England, and a considerable property in this country. His remains were decently interred yesterday morning.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY—DECEMBER 5.

Mr. Claiborne moved that the petition which he yesterday presented from the inhabitants of Greenville, complaining of the operation of the law relative to distilleries, be referred to the committee of ways and means.—Agreed.

Mr. Sitgreaves asked leave of absence for his colleague, colonel Hartley, for eight days, which was granted.

Mr. Dwight Foster, from the committee of claims, made a report on the petitions of Samuel G. Fowler and Christopher Fowler, stating that the report made formerly contained a just statement of facts; and referring the house to it, they proposed a resolution denying the prayer of the petitioners. Agreed.

The same gentleman observed, that in looking over the laws of last session, he found that the act laying a stamp duty throughout the United States, was to take place on the first of next month. As he understood that it would be impossible for the act to take place at that time, as the necessary preparations could not be effected in the interim, he should move that a committee be appointed to enquire whether any and what alterations are necessary to be made in that act.

The Speaker submitted to the gentleman whether this subject did not properly come under the duty of the committee of ways and means.

Mr. D. Foster believed it might, and would therefore alter his motion to, "Resolved, that the committee of ways and means be instructed to enquire whether any, &c."

Mr. Macon had no objection to the motion, except that he thought it unnecessary, as he believed it was the duty of the committee of ways and means to act upon the subject, without any special direction.

Mr. D. Foster said it was desirable that something should be done in the business immediately, as notice must be given in all the papers of any alteration which may be made in the act.

The motion was put and carried.

Mr. Coit moved that the report of the committee of Claims on the petition of Hannah Welsh, made at a former session, be referred to a committee of the whole house. Agreed for monday.

Mr. D. Foster said, that a bill passed that house in the session ending in March last, but was postponed by the Senate, for placing certain persons on the pension list; he moved that that bill, with the reports on the subject, be referred to the committee of claims.

The Speaker said the reports might be referred; but the house knew nothing of a bill acted upon at a former session.

Mr. Foster moved that the reports of the Secretary of War on the subject might be referred. Agreed.

The Clerk proceeded to read the remainder of the documents referred to in the report of the committee on the subject of W. Blount's conspiracy.

The next paper which came of course was the deposition of James Grant, commonly called Major Grant; his evidence consisted principally of conversation which had passed betwixt him and W. Blount; he stated that he met with him in Washington county, Virginia, on the 28th of April; that they spoke on the subject of running the line between the United States and the Indians, and he seemed to wish to avoid any responsibility with respect to the Indian treaty; that W. Blount mention his pecuniary embarrassments, but that he said he had a plan on foot which he expected would effectually relieve him; he said Chisholm and the Indian chiefs had been with the British Minister at Philadelphia, and that Chisholm had a plan in the hand writing of the British Minister, which if it succeeded, W. Blount said he should have it in his power to serve all his friends; that he seemed to place great reliance upon Rogers and Carey, and upon their influence with the Indians; he mentioned that an armament was to be sent from England, which was to be co-operated with on the land side by him at the head of the Indians. The deponent also speaks of having received letters from Col. King, about the 15th of June, from W. Blount, for Carey, which he delivered, and mentions the conversation which passed betwixt them.

Mr. Sitgreaves took the chair of the clerk, and said the next document was a paper communicated to the committee by the Chevalier de Yrujo, in French. The committee had not, he said, any formal translation of it, but he would read it in English as perfectly as he was able—which he proceeded to do. It was the communication of a citizen Mitchell, who states, that there had been enrolled by an English agent, in the Western country, 1000 persons, for the purpose of attacking certain Spanish posts, and to go against Louisiana and the two Floridas; that Chisholm had a list of 1500 tories who were engaged to take up arms in favor of England, that there were formed on the Lakes 500 regular troops, 700 Canadian militia, and 200 savages, to attack Fort Louis; that Chisholm had provided six pieces of cannon, the same which was procured for citizen Genet; that the rendezvous was to be at Knoxville the 1st of July; and that after Chisholm had reported the business to the British Minister, he would set out for England, to lay the project before the British government, and command money and vessels for carrying it into effect.—The Chevalier also gave to the committee a letter which Mitchell had received from Chisholm. It was a request that Mitchell and Craig would be in Tennessee in July; with an assurance that they might rely upon every thing which he said.

The next papers were the evidence of John Phillips Ripley and Thomas Odiorn, who were brought forward by the Chevalier de Yrujo.

J. P. Ripley states, that he is a citizen of New Hampshire; that he was educated with Captain Eaton at Yale College; that capt. Eaton had told him, that several letters were found in the possession of Dr. Romayne, which proved the British minister to be concerned in the enterprize contemplated by Gov. Blount; that these letters offered rewards to any person who would engage in the service, and that they were discovered under some rubbish; that many of Dr. Romayne's papers were destroyed: that capt. Eaton had told him that Col. Pickering had reprimanded him for having mentioned any thing respecting these letters, and had said that Great Britain was now the only friend we had; that he saw a letter which capt. Eaton had written to Col. Pickering on the subject. On examination by the committee Ripley asserted that he believed that Great Britain was at the bottom of the conspiracy.

Thomas Odiorn deposed, that he was also at College with capt. Eaton, and that capt. Eaton had told him nearly the same circumstances which J. P. Ripley deposes to have heard from him. He also says, he saw the letter which the captain had written to col. Pickering, as an apology for having mentioned any thing respecting the letters found in possession of Dr. Romayne.

Next follows the evidence of William Eaton, taken at Springfield before Judge Lyman. He states that Philips Ripley was his cotemporary at college, and that he had since been acquainted with him at Philadelphia; but that he does not know much about Odiorn. Some time after his return from New York, he recollects to have told Ripley that four or five original letters of Wm. Blount were found in Dr. Romayne's possession, at the discovery of one of which he seemed a good deal embarrassed. The deponent also told the said Ripley that Mr. Pickering was displeased with him for having mentioned any thing about these letters, until the matter was laid before the committee; but the deponent denies that he ever told Ripley, or that Mr. Pickering ever said to him, "that Great Britain was now the only friend we had." The deponent believes he might have given it as his opinion, that the British minister would have encouraged the plan, if it had been feasible; that he had delivered every article respecting the conspiracy of Mr. Blount which had come into his hands to the committee of enquiry. Captain Eaton also spoke of a French engineer having been into all the sea ports of the United States, in order to make plans of, and observations respecting them.

The next paper was a communication from the Chevalier de Yrujo, consisting of an original letter from General Clark of Georgia, to—— Murphy, Esq. consul of his catholic majesty there, in answer to an application made to him on the subject of the conspiracy, in which he states "that the peculiar nature of the proposition made to him by the British, prevents him from giving that satisfaction which is required; an application, he says, had been made to him through a channel which bound him to silence; he was asked whether 10,000 dollars would induce him to join the British, but that he had rejected the offer with disdain."

Mr. Sitgreave said that all the documents which were of any importance had now been read; what remained were not worth occupying the time of the house to read them—

If it were wished, however, they might be gone through.

The Speaker said, that would be determined on a motion being made for printing.

Mr. Otis moved that the report and documents be printed.

Mr. Dawson said there were two depositions of James Carey, one before the district judge, and another before the committee; as one only had been read, they did not wholly agree, he trusted, that both would be printed.

Mr. Sitgreaves said, certainly all the papers will be printed.

Mr. Dawson observed that Mr. Byers had given evidence, which, though not on oath he thought entitled to credit, and ought to be printed, as it corroborated the evidence of Carey.

Mr. Sitgreaves said, it had been usual upon extraordinary and important occasions to order printed more copies of papers than the usual number; he thought this one of those occasions, and moved that 600 copies might be printed, as he supposed the additional expence would be inconsiderable—Agreed.

The Speaker said a communication had been received from the commissioners of the sinking fund, which was read and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Nicholas said, it appeared to him, that when an important object was to be accomplished, and such as the house could form an opinion upon, it was proper to express their sense upon the subject to the committee appointed to consider it, lest they might act from their own opinion, upon a contrary basis, and afterwards have what they had done reversed by the House. He thought this course necessary with respect to the deferred debt. He wished the attention of the house to be now turned to this object, as it would be recollected that this session would probably be the only opportunity they would have of a fair and full discussion of it, as the next session will of necessity be a short one, and the following one will be too near the period at which resources will be wanted, to have the desired effect. This was, therefore, the time for making the proper provision, which was absolutely necessary, except they were to incroach upon funds destined for other objects. He, therefore, proposed to the house a resolution to the following effect:

"Resolved, That the Committee of Ways and Means be instructed to prepare and report a plan for raising a sum which shall be equal to satisfy the demands which will be made upon the Government in the year 1801, on account of the Deferred Debt."

The Speaker was of opinion that it was necessary, if not to move, at least to have the proposed resolution discussed in committee of the whole. [He read the rule.]

Mr. Nicholas thought the rule had reference to a specific Tax. He could refer to a precedent where the course recommended by the Speaker was not taken. It was the resolution requiring the Secretary of the Treasury to prepare and report a plan for laying a Direct Tax.

The Speaker was doubtful whether the resolution's proposing to instruct the committee of ways and means, took it out of the rule.

Mr. Coit hoped the resolution would lie upon the table till to-morrow—Agreed.

Mr. Coit presented the petition of certain inhabitants of Connecticut, officers of the District Court of the United States, praying for an alteration in the time of holding the said courts. Referred to a select committee.

Mr. Williams presented the petition of Azar Bagley, a soldier in the lately war, praying for restitution on account of a certificate which had been received by means of a forged power of attorney. Referred to the committee of claims.

Mr. Harper, from the committee appointed to prepare and report a bill for the relief of Antonia Carmichael, reported a bill which was twice read and ordered to be committed to morrow.

Mr. Otis presented a petition from Isaac Stevens, late a prisoner at Algiers, which states the hardships the petitioner had experienced; that during his long absence from family and home, his property had been made away with, his wife had been obliged to go out to service, and his children had been dispersed, his own health impaired, and that he was now obliged to subsist upon charity! He prays for some aid which may soothe the decline of his life. Referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Mr. W C Claiborne presented the petition of James Grant, of Knoxville, stating, that in pursuance of a process issued by a Committee of that House, he and his papers were seized on the 28th of last July; that he was in custody 65 days, at the expiration of which, he was discharged, at the distance of 700 miles from his own home, from whence he had been dragged by military force, to the great neglect of his business. He prays to be placed, at least, in as good a situation as he was found.——He reckons 20 days for his return home, which added to 65, make 85, and hopes he shall be allowed five dollars a day: for, as he has been guilty of no offence, he trusts he shall go unpunished—Referred to the Committee of Claims.

Mr. Harper called for the order of the day on the report of the committee of claims on the petition of Henry Hill, which was agreed to, and the House according went into a committee of the whole on the subject, Mr. Dent in the chair.

This subject has been frequently before the House, in different shapes, and has occupied much of its time. The petitioner, Henry Hill, is the administrator of Mr. Miller, the administrator of Mr. Banks, whose name has often been before the House, particularly in the settlement of the claim of the widow of General Greene.—It appears, from an investigation of facts, that the United States, in their account with John Banks, have a double credit for the same sum of 9768 dollars, it being credited to them in the quarter-master's department, and also deferred out of the balance due to John Banks, on his contract account; and, it being an established rule at the Treasury, not to open accounts for a new settlement, which has once been adjusted by the proper officers, the Treasury Department have refused to re-settle this account.—Mr. Hill prays for this balance.—The Committee of Claims are of opinion that it would be improper for them to determine who are the actual or equitable representatives of John Banks, so far as respects this balance; the right of the claimants, in case of controversy, may receive a judicial determination. It is sufficient that the balance be placed to the credit of the person to whom it belonged on the 31st of December 1783, when the sum was retained out of Banks's payment; That Committee, therefore, submit the following resolution to the consideration of the House:

"Resolved, That the accounting officers of the Treasury cause the sum of 9,768,81-90 Dollars, charged to the contract account of John Banks, on the 31st Day of December, 1783, to be credited to the said John Banks; and that the sum so credited, to the account of such other person as, in their opinion, shall be justly chargeable therewith."

Mr. Harper, Mr. Foster and Mr. Findley urged an agreement to this resolution. Mr. Coit proposed to amend it, by adding a clause of the following effect: "And that they charge the account of the said John Banks with the money paid by the United States to the executors of General Greene, on account of the debts of the said John Banks, or John Banks and Co. bailed and secured by the said General Greene."

After considerable discussion, Mr. Otis moved that the committee rise, in order to have the subject re-committed, that farther facts may be stated. This motion produced also considerable debate, a detail of which we suppose would be uninteresting to our readers. At length the committee rose, and being refused leave to sit again, a motion was made to recommit the report to the committee of claims; when Mr. Otis moved an instruction to the committee to the following effect: "to report a statement of facts relative to the demand which the United States may have upon the balance in question, on account of indemnifying the estate of Gen. Greene, as surety for the said Banks."

This instruction to the committee, after some debate, was agreed to.

Adjourned.

From the Aurora.

"When the well-born Duke of Braintree shall be again disposed to puff himself and his three volumes of trumpery and dullness, which are now selling from the book-stalls in London for waste paper, it may be a question of decency whether he had not better cause somebody else than himself to undertake the task. Vide his letter to the Bishop of Norwich, re-published from the Boston Centinel in M'Lean's paper (of New York) of the 23d ult. and which is positively known to have proceeded from the modest pen of the Duke himself. OBSERVATOR.

REMARKS.

There are many articles published in the Aurora which are so monstrously ridiculous, and so palpably false and absurd, that they carry their own refutation to every intelligent reader.

The above article however exceeds in impudence the general tenor of the abuse vomitted forth by the author of "the History of the United States." In justice to the public, the editor of the Aurora, or the author of the paragraph, is therefore bound to produce proofs of what he therein asserts to be "positively known"—If he does not, he will richly merit, if he does not already wear, the character of a calumniating assassin.

The information in the above paragraph relative to the books in question is totally false. A new edition of the Defence of the American Constitutions has lately been published in London—The work has been twice translated and published in France—and the late elegant edition by Mr. Cobbett met with a rapid sale. It may be further added, that the framers of the present constitution of France, in their report to the convention, paid the highest compliment to the "Defence of the American Constitutions of government"—and if that constitution should finally fail, it will be owing to its departure from the simple and eternal principles in Mr. Adams's work.

MR. FENNO,

That the old adage "doctors will differ," applies as well in Europe as in America the following may shew—

When Doctor Letsom by dint of industry had wormed himself into a great part of the practice which became vacant on the death of the celebrated Fothergill, one of his rivals wrote the following couplet in burlesque of the doctor's known inattentions to orthography, &c.

"My patience all, I bleeds and sweats 'em,
"And if they dies, why then—I LETS 'EM."

FROM A LONDON PAPER.

THE COMET.

(Lalande—Journal de Paris, 9 Fructidor, Aug. 26.)

The comet discovered August 14, by citizen Bouvard is rapidly removing from the earth. It is now in the arm of Hercules, and in a few days will be hardly visible.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Capel Loft, dated Froston, in Suffolk, Aug. 26.

"The comet is still discernable. At eight hours, 53 minutes this night it was above a Ophinchi, with 4 deg. greater altitude than that star; the comet being 50 deg. 5 min. It had 73 deg. polar distance, and was very near an unnamed star, from which it was passing S. E. Its right ascension 20 deg. of Sagitarius.

"Though a comet might be fatal, and perhaps one time will (a comet may have caused the deluge, and may cause the final conflagration) there seems reason to believe that generally they pass too far from us to have any sensible effect: and when they have any, it is probably beneficial. I suspect (but this is my private apprehension, and of no authority) that the present comet has been very near the earth's place in the orbit, and that it is of no inconsiderable magnitude. It seems manifest that comet might affect both our atmosphere and our tides.

"At present I have no more to add, than that it does not seem to be any comet, the return of which has been predicted. That of 1680 had its period computed 575 years that of 1661 had strong evidence for a period assigned from the theory and observation of 129 years, and perhaps passed unobserved in the southern hemisphere; that of 1682 seems to have returned in 1759; and I do not find any comet in the tables, the elements of which appear much to correspond with what has been hitherto observed of this.

"If it shall be seen to pass the Ecliptic, or be re-conspicuous after disappearing for a time, Astronomers will have a better opportunity of judging of it. I have no claim to that title; but am merely an observer of nature, and a reverer of those wonders which I see, and of that infinity of wonders which is beyond the sight and imagination of created beings.

"The path of the comet seems to lie in such a direction, that if it is seen to pass the Ecliptic, it must go over a portion of the milky way. There, according to its present appearance, it must (for a time at least) become invisible. It is with great difficulty to be seen now with a telescope which has much light.

"Allow me to remark, that this instance proves how desirable it would be that those who have the advantage of the first discovery could immediately communicate it for the benefit of the science, and for the gratification of a laudable, and, I hope, increasing curiosity in the public."

Another letter, dated August 27.

"Sir, since I wrote to you, there has been no opportunity of observing the comet; Indeed if there had, I fear it is no longer within reach of telescopes from this planet.

"In looking into Hevelius and Halley, I think I have found reason for a conjecture, which I submit with great doubt and deference to the judgment of astronomers—that probably this comet, which at its last observation was either retrogade or stationary, with respect to the equator (as is the case with comets in returning from the sun when the earth lies between them and the sun), and had advanced little in polar distance, probably came to its perihelion about the end of June, when invisible to to us at this time of the year, being then among the constellations of the southern hemisphere; and that it passed its ascending node, in near the end of Gemini, some few days before it was observed, and was, when first discovered, crossing a part of the earth's orbit, and has passed considerably near the earth's place; during which part of its progress it was bright, and its apparent diameter considerable; that its perihelion probably lies within about 8-tenth⅓ of the earth's distance from the sun; and that perhaps our posterity may again see it, at an æra of remoteness, indeed hopeless to the present race, when compared with the duration of human life; since if these suppositions be well founded, it will be no other than the comet of 1652, described and delienated by Hevelius."

The Ladies must beware of mingling in politics, if they would retain any pretensions to be treated with that politeness which Chivalry once inspired,—Take the decision of a gallant Parisian Casuist on this important question:——

"In the ancient Chivalry the respect for the fair sex was carried even to adoration, nor even then was it carried too far. It is known, however, that when a lady ceased to place herself under the protection of warriors, in order to become a champion herself, the brave Knights did not push their complaisance so far as to allow themselves to be killed by her fair hand. They entered the lists and encountered her with all the grace and civility imaginable.

"Let us follow their example. Let us not mingle in our political quarrels those Ladies whose claims belong to all parties. But why should we respect the political viragos, the Orleanist intriguers, if they do not respect themselves? Let us talk of Madame Tallien as a pretty woman; with this she could not be offended. Let us speak of Madame de Stael as Marat; if she think it worth while she will amend; if she does not, she will add this feature to the other points of resemblance which she bears her patron. A woman who has composed rhapsodies on the influence of the passions, should calculate the passion which must be inflamed against her by a stranger (Ben. Constant,) who has come among us to shake the torch of discord in a family already too much divided."

To the Inhabitants of the United States.

SINCE the knowledge of medicine, none has ever proved so astonishingly efficacious, so universally esteemed, or to which the afflicted with Rheumatisms, Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Lumbago, Palsy, Sprains, Bruises and Chilblains, may look for relief with so much confidence, as Whitehead's essence of Mustard.

This extraordinary Medicine very soon affords the wished for relief, "even to the aged in cases the most desperate." For these substantial reasons it is patronised by all ranks of people in England.

From the great number of communications constantly received by Mr. JOHNSTON, he is under the necessity (in laying them before the WORLD) of abridging their contents; the following letters (although curtailed) are so very important, and the signatures so very respectable, that he conceives he should be doing injustice to Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, were he to withhold them from public inspection.

Letter from Mrs. Mills, Housekeeper to the Duke of Cumberland.

Sir, Nov. 1, 1795.

A most inveterate Rheumatism and Lumbago (occasioned by laying in a damp bed, when at Brussels, in the suit of Her Royal Highness the Dutchess of Cumberland) has afflicted me eighteen years. I have employed the first medical gentlemen in London, and (although I derived no benefit) am bound to acknowledge my gratitude to several of the nobility, who knew my deplorable situation, and humanely sent me their physicians; I have also tried most advertised medicines. At length, sir, after eighteen years excruciating torture, a few bottles of your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, have, I thank God, restored me to the inestimable blessings of health and permanent ease.

Yours, much obliged,

No. 134, Jermyn-street, St. James's. S. MILLS

Copy of a letter from G. Countess, esq. Captain of His Majesty's Ship the Dedalus.

Sir, Spithead, Nov. 8, 1795.

As I expect to sail in a few days, I beg you will immediately forward me a dozen of Whitehead's Essence of Mustard. It gives me considerable satisfaction to inform you, I have myself experienced its good effects, and have in several instances of Rheumatisms, Sprains, and Bruises, witnessed its astonishing efficacy. I think you would consult your own interest by appointing it to be sold at Portsmouth, and all other seaports; for you may rest assured, when this invaluable specific becomes generally known, not an Officer in His Majesty's Navy will go to sea without it.

Yours, &c.

G. COUNTESS.

Sir, Dec. 20, 1795.

A severe stroke of the Palsy, six months ago, deprived me of my speech, and the use of one side. In this desperate situation, Whitehead's Essence of Mustard was very strongly recommended, and, I thank God as successfully applied. By persevering in its use a short time, I was completely restored, and continue to enjoy the full and perfect use of my faculties, although near eighty years of age.

Yours, W. FRANCIS,

No. 14, Arabella-row, Pimlico.

 Mr. Francis has held a public situation at the Guildhall in the city of Westminster, many years, and is well known to the generality of the respectable inhabitants.

Letter from A. McCan Esq. Capt. of the 60th regiment, dated Fort George, Guernsey,

Sir, Jan. 4, 1797

Upwards of five years past I have been afflicted with a most violent Rheumatic Affection in my head, which has baffled the skill of the most eminent Physicians; some months since I was induced to try your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard. I am now happy to inform you, it has done me essential service, and I think it necessary to declare, no other medicine ever gave me the smallest degree of relief.

I am with regard, yours, &c. &c.

Capt. 60th Regt. A. McCAN.

Auguste, 1795.

Mr. Middleton, of Chesterfield-street, St. Mary-le-bone was so severely afflicted with the Rheumatic Gout, as to be unable to move in my bed for six months; his limbs were enormously swelled, and at length from excessive pain became quite black. In this distressing situation he was induced to try your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard; the effect far exceeded the most sanguine expectation, his pain was immediately alleviated, and his limbs returned to their natural colour; his appetite restored, and in a very short time he was enabled to leave his bed and walk with crutches; and by a few weeks perseverance, was completely restored to the full enjoyment of perfect health.

 Mr. Middleton, with his son, repeatedly called as he got better, on Mr. Johnston, and declared that his life was utterly despaired of.

Respected Sir, Nov. 6. 1795.

Passing by a croud, in the fifth month of her pregnancy, my wife received a dreadful blow on her side, which apparently destroyed the life of the infant; after the most skilful advice, and trying various remedies for two months, she still found the symptoms increase to an alarming degree; spitting of blood—shortness of breath—and other disagreeable circumstances appeared from so violent a bruise, afforded only the fatal appearance of her speedy dissolution.——A friend to whom I related her sad case, having experienced great benefit from your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, kindly presented me with a bottle; to my unspeakable satisfaction, it speedily relieved her from pain; a second bottle has removed every disagreeable symptom, and with the most heartfelt gratitude I inform you, we have the happy prospect of her long continuing a living mother to our numerous family.

Yours, &c. T. HURLOCK.

The Norfolk Mail STAGE.

THIS Stage starts from the GEORGE Tavern, at the corner of Second and Arch streets, in Philadelphia, every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, at 3 o'clock, in the morning; arrives at Dover the first day, at Snowhill the second day, at Northampton Court House the third day, and on the morning of the fourth day the passengers find a safe and comfortable packet to convey them to Norfolk.

A packet leaves Norfolk for Northampton ferry, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and the Stage starts from this ferry for Philadelphia, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday; puts up at Snow Hill the first night, at Dover the 2d night, and arrives in Philadelphia in the evening of the third day.

The distance on this route, between Philadelphia and Norfolk, is 80 miles less than on any stage route between those places.

Too much cannot be said in favor of the road, which is most excellent indeed. The proprietors willingly engage to return the whole fare to any passenger, who, after having performed this route, will say that he ever travelled in a stage for the same distance, so good a road in America.
